

BIOPOD® BRINGS IP SUITE POTENTIAL TO NEW AND EXISTING SMART HOME DEVICES IN THE IOT

Seeing (and hearing) the Big Picture in the Potential of Smart Home Control

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA , USA, April 3, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BIOPOD® BRINGS IP SUITE POTENTIAL TO NEW AND EXISTING SMART HOME DEVICES IN THE IOT

"Powered by BioPod®," says Richard J. Maertz (Inventor of BioPod® Technology), "We believe our IP provides a solution to smarter and more powerful smart home platform hardware and information in the IoT."

Smart Home Devices and information collected through multichannel communication systems would be vastly improved with the addition of biometric feedback from all individuals (and pets) and even in the connected devices that would benefit from BioPod's® patented technology and monitoring capabilities.

BioPod's Hearable Platform Technology would add value and differentiation to Smart Home Management and Controls and may become the conduit for numerous mixed reality and IoT applications.

We believe our IP provides a solution to more powerful smart home platform hardware and information in the IoT”

Richard J. Maertz, Inventor of BioPod® Technology

"Just integrating the categories that we've defined with BioPod® Technology into Smart Home Control Devices is exciting!", Mr. Maertz beams, "Just imagine partnering with developers and device designers to exploit the Technology to its fullest."
